

PREACHES ON SIN OF INGRATITUDE

Rev. F. Burgette Short Deals With One of Most Common Faults of Man.

SOME POINTED REMARKS

Pastor Says That Not to Be Grateful Is to Be Halfway Between Human and Inhuman.

"Ingratitude is just the halfway house between humanity and inhumanity."

In this manner one of the most common faults to which human flesh is heir was described last night by Rev. F. Burgette Short in a sermon at the First Methodist church on the subject, "The Sin of Ingratitude."

Dr. Short took his text from Luke xiv-17, which reads: "Were there not ten cleansed? But where are the nine?" In short, pointed paragraphs he handled his theme, saying, in part: "This story is indeed simple. Ten poor, unfortunate lepers called to Christ for help, and he helped them—cleansed them. One of them was grateful and went to thank the Savior. The nine, went off their way, ungratefully getting what had been done for them. Poor souls! No feeling of gratitude for blessings bestowed."

"This story seems quite human; that is, it is just like a good many people do. They cry out for help, thank all they can get and never stay to say thank you, because they do not feel that they are."

Halfway House. "Ingratitude is just the halfway house between humanity and inhumanity. The ungrateful man is neither a man nor a woman. The ungrateful woman is neither a woman nor a man. This is true of all ungratefulness, they are never happy. They have no songs. They mumble a complaint, they murmur a requiem. They never have a smile playing across their faces, they never delight in flowers, nor friends, nor birds, nor music. There is a life of sadness."

"They know not what liberty means. They have circumscribed their life, they have shut out the sunshine. They have imprisoned their bodies and are not happy. They are in a cage, indeed, I fancy that they would find this true, that ingratitude is a dominant factor in the life of every prisoner in our prisons and penitentiaries. Life for them is an opportunity to absorb something, to get something for nothing if possible, but never to give, to get, whatever the cost to the one from whom they are getting."

"Ingratitude, it always has some grief or grouse or kick. It never tries to count its blessings. It forgets its blessings and reads its diary of disappointments and losses and sufferings. If it would only do like Goethe. It is said that when the great German poet had a grief he would hurry away and write a poem. Splendid way that to drown dull care and to fill the heart with the blood that makes for song. Was it not too bad that only one of the ten had gratitude in his heart and a 'thank you' upon his lips? Where are the nine? Where are they? Are any of their likes here?"

Betrays Friend. "Ingratitude, Yonder it is. Brutus owed his life to Caesar. Caesar placed him in positions of honor and took him to his heart as a friend. But when he was with Caesar, he betrays his old friend and dips his hands in the hot blood of his princely benefactor. Ingrate. Diabolical ingratitude. One day the incomparable Richieu, who had made possible every success of Louis XIII, died. When his king was informed that his trusted friend was gone, this is his ungrateful comment: 'There is a great politician gone.' Ingratitude."

"Ingratitude, its despicable spirit is felt in many a home. Its poisonous shaft has pierced many a father's heart and tried many a mother to her untimely grave. Ingratitude. It should have no place among us. Blessings are poured into every life. We are the recipients of wealth and good. Ingrateful man, if you are here, stop now and count your blessings. Begin with that good mother and father and come on down. Innumerable are your blessings."

"The fact is that when the way has been very hard we have perhaps been largely responsible for it. The people that really have the hard place in life complain very little. The man that is really trying to do his very best generally has a light heart, a smile and a song."

"Don't be ungrateful to God. Don't be ungrateful to Christ. He has poured out his life for you. The beauties of this world are for you. Some of the people are appreciating it and are saying 'Thank God for this beautiful world.' Some of the people are appreciating it and are saying 'Thank God for the love wherewith Christ hath loved us.' Young man and young woman, don't be ungrateful. It means a dyspeptic nature and a billious constitution. It will shut out the sunlight from your life and destroy the fragrance of the flower. O, I beg you to come away from the nine. Join the one and your name shall be written in the book of life and love."

FLAMES DESTROY CUTLER COTTAGE

Summer Home of Former Governor in Parley's Canyon Burned by Brush Fires.

Fires burning in Parley's canyon destroyed the summer home of ex-Governor John C. Cutler, at Birch Grove, Saturday afternoon, entailing a loss of about $1,500. Several other cottages, barns and fences were threatened, but were saved by the heroic work of the firemen, who now believe they have the flames under control.

The fire is burning down the north side of Parley's canyon, in By north canyon, Hell Hole and Lamb's canyon," said E. H. Clark of the forest service, last night, "but there is no danger of any more losses unless heavy winds arise. Nearly all of the flames are under control and the fires are not expected to spread down Emigration canyon."

"The outlook just now is very encouraging and if we can only get a little rain without bad winds we will succeed in getting all the fires out in a few days. Even if the wind will leave us alone there need be no fear of damage. The fire fighters have all been working hard and are expected to have all the fires under complete control."

Every Monday. Every Monday is enrollment day at Henger's Business College. New students are enrolled all the time.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terror it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, purifies the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

BARTENDER SMASHES HIS ACCUSER'S NOSE

Dispenser of Liquid Refreshments Pummels Man Who Called Him "Stool-Pigeon."

Alford Gillis, formerly of Goldfield, who came to Salt Lake less than a week ago, accompanied by two others, who have been watched by the police, encountered Charles Parker, the big bartender at the Bingham buffet, in Commercial street, early yesterday afternoon and accused him of being a "stool-pigeon" for Chief of Police S. M. Barlow.

Parker told him that he had. Assisted by his pals, Gillis attacked Parker with his fists, but the latter landed a right on his nose. The blow was delivered with such force that it not only broke the nose of Gillis in two places, but fractured the first and second fingers of Parker's right hand. With blood streaming from his nose, Gillis was taken to the emergency hospital, at police headquarters, in an unconscious condition.

Terrified by the hard-hitting powers of Parker, the friends of Gillis deserted him and left him in the street. He was discovered by Detectives Ed. J. Jones and Earl Ripley and taken to police headquarters by Sergeant J. H. Johnston and Patrolman George Burton. Dr. John M. Spaulding, acting police surgeon, found it necessary to use four stitches in bringing the broken nose of Gillis back into shape. Parker went to a surgeon to have his broken fingers set. Then he surrendered himself at police headquarters. He was locked up pending investigation. Gillis will probably be held on a charge of vagrancy.

SLIGHT EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.

A slight earthquake shock was distinctly felt in the south end of Salt Lake county last night, but the tremor was not registered on the seismograph at the University of Utah. Several persons noticed a rumbling and peculiar sensation at about 6:30 o'clock. The shock was the result of the slight shifting of earth blocks in the Quinlan range.
